EXPERIENCE

LARGE STRATEGY CONSULTANCY

Boston, MA

Business Analyst

July 2005 – July 2007

- Sourced and evaluated investment options and created investment proposals. This included identifying companies for acquisition to leverage their expertise in order to grow Company's knowledge capital and business offerings. The process included detailed valuation and business analysis exercises. This information was then consolidated into reports which were presented to managing partners. Ultimately resulted in a $300 million acquisition by the Company on which I served on the internal due diligence and sourcing teams.
- Analyzed the fixed income offerings of a Global 100 financial services client and worked to develop an automated trading desk for these offerings within the firm. Managed 3 resources during the delivery of a solution that provided one single global platform for cash and current accounting practices for all client and proprietary businesses.
- Developed new strategies to help Utilities clients streamline existing operations to deliver value and improve profitability across the board while utilizing technology solutions to cut costs and improve worker efficiency.
- Audited the business practices of a Fortune 500 company to identify failures in document controls and change management. Leveraged the existing staffing framework and knowledge capital that had been generated by the client to deliver processes which could be easily implemented by the client.
- Conducted financial analysis on existing client relationships and markets to identify business opportunities with existing clients and also development opportunities with nontraditionally targeted industries. This led to the development of $500 million dollars in new revenue over 2006 and 2007.
